Springfield is soon to lose one of her best, best liked and most successful little teachers. A very ambitious young minister of Bluffton, O., is the fortunate young man. The lady resigned her position, and, at a recent meeting of the board, received some well deserved praise for her very excellent work during the past nine years.

Five car loads of people comprised the excursion party to the Soldiers' Home, at Dayton, this morning, under the auspices of the Congregational Sabbath-school, in all about four hundred persons, making the largest excursion of the season thus far. The threatening weather kept many at home, it is believed, who had expected to accompany the party, which returns at seven this evening.

About seventy-five couples attended the hop given by Division 44, Uniform Rank K. of P., at their armory last evening. The music was superb, the floor in fine condition, and as dancing was the order of the evening, there was nothing to detract from the pleasure of the evening. At 11 o'clock a light supper of strawberries, ice cream, cake, coffee, &c., was served, and thereafter the dancing continued until a late hour.

The baseball season came to a summary but not unlooked for close yesterday, the Springfield at last demanding owing to lack of support, this morning, under the auspices of the Congregational Sabbath-school, in all about four hundred persons, making the largest excursion of the season thus far. The threatening weather kept many at home, it is believed, who had expected to accompany the party, which returns at seven this evening.

Poison at the Front Door.

No article entering so generally into the food of every family has been found more villainously adulterated than baking powder. For the purpose of understanding the powers of absolute purity and wholesomeness which alone are safe for use in food, hundreds of dealers are putting up baking powders with cheap and adulterated cream of tartar, which contains lime, earth, etc., adding strength by the free use of alum.

These adulterated powders are "shoved" upon the public with the greatest persistency. They are first given away—left in samples at private residences, with circulars containing bogus analyses and certificates, and false representations as to their value, etc. This fact of itself is sufficient to condemn them. A first-class article will sell on its merits. No manufacturer whose goods are of value can afford to give them away, and none but the cheapest make and most inferior or unmarketable goods require to be distributed free in order to give the public to use them, and this method is adopted only by parties who have failed to dispose of their wares through the ordinary and legitimate channels of trade.

Free samples of articles or food left at the house should be regarded with suspicion. There is no guarantee of their wholesomeness, while there is real danger that they contain a fatally poisonous compound. Many instances of poisoning from the use of such samples are recorded.

The only safe way is to consign all such samples immediately to the ash barrel, and to turn a deaf ear to the statements made by their vendors. It is not worth while to trifle with life and health to the extent of testing every doubtful baking powder that comes along. Better to rely upon an old and reliable brand, like the Royal, which has by a quarter of a century's constant use proved its perfect wholesomeness and efficiency, or some other brand that is not so worthless and cheap that its proprietors can afford to give it away by the cart load. It is in its favor that the Royal Baking Powder is never given away, sold by means of lotteries, nor accompanied by chromos, spoons, crockery or other gifts, except the gifts of absolute purity, wholesomeness, full weight, and superlative leavening power. Its own power. Its own merits have been its chief advertisement, and they have secured for it the constant patronage of the American people to an extent beyond the combined sale of all other baking powders. The Royal Baking Powder is certified by all the Government chemists as absolutely pure and perfect.

PROHIBITION.

The following item is going the rounds and so far as known is not denied.

Mr. Robert Young, one of the leading local prohibitionists, states that in answer to the request to be present here (Springfield) at the Ohio Prohibition Convention, St. John sent word that he would have to break three engagements which would aggregate him $150 by coming here, but submitted the offer to come for $100 and expenses. The local committee thought it reasonable and telegraphed back that his terms were accepted.
